

Value Analysis Network

Connect and collaborate with like-minded value analysis professionals

The Vizient Value Analysis Network provides a unique way for Vizient member value analysis professionals to help improve individual and organizational performance by learning together, candidly discussing important issues, and sharing leading practices and successes.

Vizient Member Networks provide national forums where professionals can network with their peers, share insights and drive creative solution development.

Who should join?

This network is open to value analysis professionals at Vizient member organizations that currently participate in Vizient Member Networks who are looking for opportunities to network with their peers, are willing to share openly and are committed to the delivery of exceptional, cost-effective care through excellence in value analysis.

Leverage collective wisdom

As the health care industry works to increase the quality of care while lowering costs, hospitals and health systems are increasingly relying on their value analysis professionals to identify opportunities to reduce product and practice variation, improve quality and reduce the total cost of care. Value analysis leaders are at the forefront of the search for innovative ways to align the supply chain with care delivery teams and clinical leaders. The Vizient® Value Analysis Network offers you unique opportunities to share information and experiences with your peers and learn from experts.

Learn: Connect with like-minded members to learn about industry-leading practices and successful strategies for addressing common challenges.

Network: Build meaningful peer relationships in this member-driven network that is designed to help you set a new level of performance excellence.

Connect with peers and experts

Our network provides several ways for you to connect with your peer value analysis professionals. There are monthly topical and facilitated open forum calls. Two in-person networking meetings are also offered each year, as part of the spring and fall Vizient Connections summits. A member-led planning committee sets the agendas for both the in-person and virtual meetings.

Meeting topics are chosen to be timely and relevant. Invited experts offer insights and leading practices dealing with current issues; active roundtable discussions on hot topics are part of each meeting. Topics covered at recent network meetings have included:

- Medical device industry trends
- Supply standardization and surgeon cost awareness
- Medical staff leadership engagement in drug and supply savings initiatives
- How to systematically apply evidence-based research in clinical value analysis
- How product disruptions can affect business continuity
